On 27 April, the Academy of Sciences of Moldova (UNAMM) organized the Scientific Conference of Students and Master's Degree Candidates with the title "The Future Belongs to Us", the 7th edition.

The event was attended by students and master's degree candidates from UnASM, as well as from other educational institutions.

Present at the event the Director General of the State Agency on Intellectual Property (AGEPI), Octavian Apostol, spoke to the participants about the importance of intellectual property and the role of innovation for a better life.

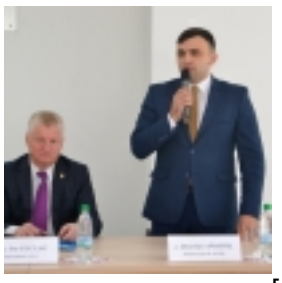

Congratulations and encouragement to work in the field of research addressed to the participants the Vice-President of the ASM, Ion Guceac, and the Director of the Institute of Chemistry of the ASM, Tudor Lupascu.

Further, the participants in the Conference presented their communications in the following workshops:

- Biology, Molecular Biology
- Ecology, Geography, Environmental Sciences
- Mathematics and Information Science
- Technical and Chemical Sciences
- Social and Political Sciences
- Languages and Literatures

AGEPI specialists have disseminated among the participants informative materials in the field of protection of intellectual property.

The participation of AGEPI in the Scientific Conference of Students and Master's Degree Candidates with the title "The Future Belongs to Us" is part of the program dedicated to the World Intellectual Property Day celebrated annually on April 26th.
