Every year, on April 26, we celebrate World Intellectual Property Day to promote the contribution of intellectual property (IPRs) rights (patents, trademarks, designs, plant varieties, geographical indications, and copyright) to the development of innovation and creativity.

World Intellectual Property Day 2019 theme is: Faster, stronger, higher! Reach for Gold: Intellectual Property and Sports.

In the program of events proposed by the World Intellectual Property Organization are also included the events that will take place at national level. To highlight the potential and role of intellectual property for the economic, cultural and social development of our country, AGEPI will organize a series of activities dedicated to this world-class event.
