03/27/2015 Events

Agepi is partner of the International Festival J.S. Bach, fifth edition, which runs from March 27 to April 3 in the Organ Hall of Chisinau. The festival is included in the list of events scheduled in the context of the International Intellectual Property Day marked on April 26, the day that pays tribute to the contribution that intellectual property brings to innovation and creativity, and the theme of this year is – Get up, stand up. For Music!

This partnership aims to create a better understanding of the role of intellectual property and to demonstrate how the intellectual property system promotes not only products and technological innovations that contribute to modernization of all countries of the world, but also music, art and entertainment activities.

The festival program includes four concerts, which will cover organ, piano, saxophone recitals, etc., with valuable guests from Hungary, Russia, Romania, Ukraine and Republic of Moldova.
