Mrs. Lilia Bolocan, Director General of AGEPI today had a working meeting with representatives of the “Business Consultancy Center”, who presented the project “Sustainable Agricultural Trade Network in the Black Sea Basin – AgriTradeNet”, funded by the Black Sea Basin Joint Operational Program 2014-2020.

The main objective of the project is increasing the capacity of local producers and strengthening cooperation between business, producers’ organizations and local authorities for regional branding and transnational trading of agricultural products. Particular attention will be paid to increasing the capacity of agricultural producers wishing to produce and export traditional agricultural products, with defined geographical origin, which can be marked and marketed with national quality symbols: geographical indications (GIs), appellations of origin (AO) and Traditional Specialties Guaranteed (TSG).

Mr. Anatolie Palade, President of A.O. “Centrul de Consultanta in Afaceri” informed AGEPI colleagues about the specific activities to be implemented within the project in the Republic of Moldova and invited the Agency to collaborate on topics of common interest.

AGEPI Director General confirmed the institution’s opening for any initiatives that come to support local producers in business development and announced the availability of AGEPI specialists to contribute with expertise in the GI field in all activities organized by the project.

Subsequently, an exchange of views and ideas on the format and tools that could be used in the implementation of the project activities was made, the parties agreeing to inform each other about all actions to promote the geographical indications system among the indigenous agricultural producers.
