The State Agency on Intellectual Property (AGEPI) invites interested persons to participate in the South Korea International Women’s Invention Exposition (KIWIE), organized by the Korea Women Inventors Association. The event will take place in September this year. In the context of the epidemiological situation generated by the COVID-19 infection, the competition will take place in a hybrid format, both online and with physical presence. KIWIE is the only festival that pays tribute to women inventors and their inventions around the world.

The purpose of the event is to exchange information and gained experience, to acquire new technological trends, as well as to promote current innovations.

For more information on the event, including the conditions of participation and conduct of the exhibition you can find at the following address: https://kiwie.or.kr/eng/ [1]. The registration deadline is July 23, 2021.

The activity of the South Korean Inventor Women's Association is supported by the Korean Intellectual Property Office (KIPO), with the aim of promoting the inventions of inventor women. The association brings together inventor women and administrators of SMEs from over 30 countries.

The State Agency on Intellectual Property (AGEPI) encourages inventors and researchers from the Republic of Moldova to participate in international specialized exhibitions and to use this tool to promote their own innovative projects with maximum efficiency.
